Will Start at 1:30 p.m. Today

Pete Lake's traditional New Year's Day parade, which annually sets off a huge crowd of participants and spectators, will begin at 1:30 p.m. in downtown Aspen, Colorado. The parade, themed "In the Eyes of the West," will feature floats, music, and entertainment on a scale never before seen. The parade route will take participants from the courthouse to the city park, passing by the main street businesses and attractions. It is expected to attract thousands of people to watch and participate in the festivities.

Manitou Residents Slow in Obtaining Street Numbers

Nearly half of the residents of Manitou Springs are still waiting for their street numbers, which will be posted on the corners of streets throughout the city. The city council is working to get the numbers posted as soon as possible, but the process is taking longer than expected. Many residents have expressed frustration with the delay, but city officials assure them that they are working hard to get the numbers in place.

Dumb Animals Are Smart: Brainless of All Is Chimp

For years, scientists have debated the intelligence of chimpanzees. Some claim that they are merely mindless apes, while others argue that they possess a level of intelligence comparable to that of humans. A recent study has revealed that chimpanzees are actually quite clever, with the brain of a chimp being even more advanced than previously thought. The study was conducted by researchers at the University of Cambridge and involved observing chimpanzees in their natural habitat. The results showed that chimpanzees are capable of solving complex problems and even understanding human speech. The findings are significant, as they suggest that chimpanzees are as intelligent as humans and should be treated with respect.

National Jaycee Week Observance Set for Jan. 14-21

The National Jaycee Week Observance kicks off on January 14th, with events taking place throughout the week in various cities across the country. The observance is held to honor the contributions of Jaycees to the community and to celebrate their achievements. The week's events include speeches, workshops, and social gatherings, all aimed at promoting community involvement and strengthening the bond between Jaycees and their local communities. The observance is an opportunity for Jaycees to come together and reflect on the positive impact they have had on their communities.

National Jaycee Week Observance Set for Jan. 14-21

The National Jaycee Week Observance kicks off on January 14th, with events taking place throughout the week in various cities across the country. The observance is held to honor the contributions of Jaycees to the community and to celebrate their achievements. The week's events include speeches, workshops, and social gatherings, all aimed at promoting community involvement and strengthening the bond between Jaycees and their local communities. The observance is an opportunity for Jaycees to come together and reflect on the positive impact they have had on their communities.

Chief Theater and GT Plan Kids' Matinee on Thursday

The Chief Theater and GT Plan put on a special kids' matinee on Thursday afternoon, showcasing a selection of family-friendly films. The event is designed to provide a fun and engaging experience for children of all ages. The theater offers a variety of seating options, including designated family sections, to accommodate the needs of young viewers. The event includes snacks and drinks, and the theater encourages families to come together and enjoy a memorable movie experience.