

Wade City Stop For Stagecoaches

Wade City is gone from the old Cripple Creek Stage Road.

Altho never a city—outside its name—at one time it was quite a little settlement. The Cripple Creek stage which started from the corner of Colorado Avenue (then called Huerfano Street) at Tejon Street, always stopped at Wade City.

The six horses that pulled the stage and passengers alike had easily raised a thirst by the time Wade City was reached.